

Student of the Month For December 2011

Scott Johnson

The Christmas and New Years break have come to an end, however we still want to recognize our student of the month at Sierra Lutheran High School for the month of December. Scott Johnson has shined academically, athletically, and spiritually, not only in December, but so far for the 2011/2012 school year. As he has attended Sierra for his fourth year now, he is working hard towards graduating this spring. He started off this school year as one of the captains of the Athletic Olympics, and put in a lot of work and effort in his classes. Scott stuck out to us for student of the month in his efforts to be a spiritual and emotional leader on the varsity boy's basketball team. His efforts as a student, friend, and spiritual encourager, have made him an outstanding choice for student of the month.
